

මහාචාර්ය සරත් අමුණුගම මහතා

Professor Sarath Amunugama

Senior Lecturer N. Gunasekara

Professor Sarath Amunugama is the former Vice Chancellor of the University of Visual and Performing Arts and Professor in the Department of Modern languages at the University of Kelaniya.

He has obtained his basic degree from the University of Sorbonne – France and obtained his Masters in Arts (M.A) and also his Ph.D. from the same University.

In addition to the above academic qualifications he possesses the PG Diploma (TEFL) in Sorbonne and the DESS from Bourgogne.

With his sound academic background and vast experience in teaching he has extensively contributed for updating and development of academic courses conducted by the Department of Modern Languages at the University of Kelaniya.

Prof. Amunugama is the author of several publications in the area of Linguistics, Culture and Teaching Methodologies which immensely benefit to the students who do research and further learning in those areas. He has published his Masters thesis as well as pre-doctoral and doctoral theses.

A selected list of Prof. Amunugama is given below;

Publications.

1. Enseigner la culture dans une classe de langue étrangère. Nouvelle Sorbonne, paris in 1984. "Thesis submitted for the Pre- Doctoral degree.