

Further, it addresses the issue of limited empirical studies in the field of talent management, and also takes a novel perspective than the existing literature by overcoming the limitations of current talent management literature.

Keywords: Categorization, Exclusive approach, Stakeholder theory, Talent management, Unitarist approach