

mental, are capable of crossing the ordinary boundaries such as gender, class, geography or tradition and travel as a universal being. This helps to awake the female communities in the world who are yet to achieve their full potential as individuals.